Client Testimonial

I am someone who is open to new ideas and different points of view. Coaching made real sense to me. It was a two way conversation where different viewpoints were always emerging and explored. Dan asks good questions which made me think harder and helped me see the bigger picture though both questions and examples.

As a result of coaching my confidence was elevated, which was one of my goals relative to my more seasoned colleagues. I learned that identifying my values and what they really mean to me was important to help me come up with solutions to roadblocks I was facing. And committing to the values also gave me confidence I was looking for.

What I appreciated most about Dan was his follow up and getting me to stick to commitments. With challenging work schedules it is easy to lose time, but Dan made sure I was moving forward on commitments I had made to myself. He helped me connect dots I could not easily identify, and got me in the habit of asking the right question to help me think through a tough situation.
